PROUD PAPA

My youngest child, Graceanne Yvette, recently turned 16 years old! She is maturing into such an independent, well rounded young lady. She is gifted with the video camera and entertains us all with her "You-Tube" videos. In the past couple of years she decided to pick up the guitar and learn to play. This past fall she entered a talent contest with her guitar and won 3rd place!

Her big news, however, is that she was recently selected to be a Foreign Exchange student to Sweden! She will spend the first semester of her Junior year of High School in Sweden. She leaves in mid-August and will return in January. Of course I will miss her, but I am so excited she wants to travel and explore. Congratulations Graceanne Yvette!

"My son Andrew, who turned 21 on April 5th, is delighted to be living on his own with his best friend from High School. It's great to see him making his way as he considers all of his options. He has decided psychology is his career path. Goodness knows his dad will need it!"
