

Your Estate Matters - Fall Season Opener

Election Day

Election day is Tuesday, November 2, 2010. All elections are important, my hope is that you are informed and will in fact vote on Tuesday. Following the election I expect the Congress to FINALLY address some important tax issues that remain in flux. If nothing is done, some major changes will happen on January 1, 2011. As soon as I am informed of pertinent information, know I will be emailing you with the new information that may affect you or your family. Stay tuned and you can stay on top of important tax law changes.

Daylight Savings Time

Daylight Savings Time ends on Sunday, November 7, 2010. Before bed on Saturday evening, November 6 be sure to FALL BACK and turn your clocks back one hour. I always like to "fall back" because it makes it easier to get up and do those early morning work outs!

World Series 2010

Sadly, the St. Louis Cardinals did not make it to the playoffs this year, but as a die-hard baseball fan I am excited to attend Game Three of the World Series this Saturday in Dallas. It will be exciting to witness the Texas Rangers participating in the World Series for the first time ever in the 50th year of the franchise! However, we will be there rooting for the San Francisco Giants.

Sweden

Many of you are interested in how my daughter Graceanne is doing in Sweden. Graceanne left in early August and her adjustment has exceeded all our expectations. She is the top student in her Swedish language school and is enrolled in a very challenging music program which requires her to learn many types of instruments (all in Swedish!). Her host family has been generous and such a blessing to Graceanne. Originally, Graceanne planned to return in January 2011. However, her host family has invited her to stay for the remainder of the school year! A little hard to wait even longer for her return, but thank goodness Skype and email are available to keep us connected as we anticipate her return in June 2011!

Have a great fall, and keep watching for updates to the changing situation in Washington, D.C. at clancyparks.com. You can also go to the FIND US page, where you can call or email us to schedule an appointment today.
